A CHARITABLE VIEW.

The Mannington Record thinks Republicans can afford to let the Democratic papers rant and roar and call names if they want to as it is an acknowledgement of defeat beforehand. The Record speaks on the subject as follows:

"The Daily Record feels that if the Democratic organs can derive any satisfaction out of running a rough house campaign the Republicans can afford to keep their shirts on and not lose their tempers. If the Democrats don't snarl a little no one would know they were in existence and their howling would not do a bit of harm. Calling names and throwing mud is the way the Democrats have of acknowledging

Judge Dent is so wrought up over the criticisms and exposures of his position on public questions, as defined in his letter accepting the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second district, that he is actually writing the editors personal appeals not to do so any more. Judge Dent should remember that newspapers have a perfect right to criticize and comment on his platform and letter and that it is their duty to the people to show him and them the error of his ways. If Judge Dent thinks otherwise, he can not suppress the press, nor can he slide through this campaign without receiving his full share of attention by the press. If he had not the courage to meet all this, he should not have thought of running for public office, nor should he have one. But why say more? He is not going to get one this year.

KILLIAN TAKES PASTORATE

Rev. J. C. Killian, district missionary for the Baptist denomination, with most of his work the past several months at New Martinsville and Smithfield, has accepted the pastorate of Grace Baptist church at Trenton, N. J., one of the leading churches of that city, and will leave the field here for that point Oct. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Killian have been actively engaged in the work in this section and it is a matter of great regret that they leave this field. They made many friends during their stay here, whose best wishes will accompany them to Trenton.

AT ODEON

"The Great Train Robbery" drew good crowds all day. It is just what the people like and it pleased every one that saw it and will please you. It is so life-like, and one of the most thrilling and daring robbery scenes ever put before the public. You should not miss this.

EMANCIPATION AT FAIRMONT

There will be no celebration here of Emancipation Day but a large number of colored people will go to Fairmont Monday, where there will be an elaborate celebration of the day.

All Knights of Pythias, colored, I. O. O. F., K. of P. band, base ball team and the general public will meet at the depot Monday morning in time for the 6:15 train. For further information see R. A. West or John H. Hickenbotham.

C. F. Zaruba, the banker, returned this morning from Hot Springs, Ark., where he spent six weeks.

Jack Ayers was here Friday from West Milford.

Attorney G. M. Alexander was here from Fairmont Friday.

ing defeat, and coming thus early in the campaign let us be magnanimous and permit them to growl if it cases their pain so to do. This is a Republican year, as every forth-coming low tax year is sure to be, and we ought not to expect the Democrats to feel good natured and superlatively hilarious. So out of pity why not let them shriek an occasional shriek?"

"BAD FOR THE STATE."

The anti-tax reform organs say the attitude of Judge McWhorter in the B. & O. appeal cases makes it look bad for the State. That is exactly what they said about Judge Parson's attitude before he rendered his decision.—Wheeling News.

And the worst of all is, says the Fairmont West Virginian, that these papers wanted it to be bad for the State. The wish was father of the thought. One of these organs says that the railroads have been assessed at five or six times their value and of course it wants the judges decision to be "bad for the State."

NEWSPAPER CONSOLIDATION.

The Barbour Democrat and the Philippi Plaindealer have been consolidated. Editor Poling, of the Democrat, purchasing the Plaindealer outfit. The Grafton Sentinel makes the following very sensible comment concerning the transaction:

"Barbour county is to have but one Democratic paper hereafter. The Philippi Plaindealer has been purchased by Mr. Poling, owner of the Barbour Democrat, and the two papers will be consolidated. Just what has happened in this case will almost invariably occur when an attempt is made to run more newspapers in one county than the patronage to be had will justify. There was never any reason for more than one Democratic newspaper in our neighboring county above named, and what has followed was but the inevitable result with more or less of a financial loss to both publishers. The Plaindealer under the editorship of Mr. Granville Taft was a very creditable newspaper and ably edited, but there was not enough patronage to sustain the paper and the proprietor did the next best thing left to do, and that was to turn it over to his competitor. The Sentinel regrets to see Mr. Taft go out of the newspaper business. It is not likely, though, that he will long stay out."

The Fairmont Times has a good deal of enterprise and energy, but it is using them in a worthless way so far as its alleged political gossip is concerned. The articles on their face from different parts of the State give evidence of the fact that they are mere hallucinations and fancies and they have no real foundation. They are merely written for political effect and have no regard for accuracy or truth. The Telegram for the sake and standing of the Times is sorry, indeed, to see it depart in this way from the straight and narrow way, and hopes it may see its error and correct it at the earliest possible moment. It will soon learn of his mistake. He
